The Daily Sentinel.

JOSIAH TURNER, Jr., EDITOR.

A HARD CASE.—The city of Jefferson, in this State, is suffering all the horrors of martial law—without its being declared—executed by men who take pleasure in persecuting its citizens, the ostensible object being to avenge the killing of the notorious G. W. Smith, for which the citizens generally are in no way responsible.

We have already published Judge Caldwell's card, giving Smith the worst sort of a character, and containing the Judge's refusal to speak from the same stand with him. The Marshall Republican says the whole career of Smith in Jefferson for several years was "one of violence and unbridled licentiousness." He lived and cohabited with negroes—walked the principal streets almost in a state of nudity to exhibit his contempt for all decency, and acted otherwise so shamelessly that "not a white radical family in the place would have permitted him to enter their dwelling." He assembled armed bodies of negroes, week after week, and addressed to them the most inflammatory appeals. He guarded the roads with armed negro sentinels, and thus made it dangerous to travel them; houses were broken into and robbed by his minions, and the town kept in such a state of alarm that the citizens had to stand guard night after night over their property and families. The Republican says:

It can be proved that he told the negroes that they would never be able to govern the town until they burned it; and, it is a significant fact, in this connection, that shortly afterwards the town was burned, destroying property to the amount of upwards of a million of dollars. It is in further proof, that when warned by a member of his own party not to return to Jefferson, and when told him that if he did, and repeated his outrages, he would be killed, he replied that the ladies of Jefferson were his protectors, explaining to the party with him whom he was conversing, that he meant, that such was his control over the negroes, and the dread of his power, that the ladies, fearful of a war of races, would not suffer him to be molested. He more than once incited the negroes to violence, and the dread of his power, that the ladies, fearful of a war of races, would not suffer him to be molested. He more than once incited the negroes to violence, and headed negro mobs to rescue negroes arrested by civil process. The immediate cause of his death was an affair of this kind. He organized a negro mob to invade the residence of Mr. Richard Figures, who is now under arrest. A party of peaceable citizens, who went out on patrol duty, to prevent this outrage, were wantonly fired upon by Smith and his negro allies, and two of them seriously wounded. The origin of this difficulty, it will be remembered, was the loss of his carpet sack, which had been taken by some wild boys. For this he organized a body of armed negroes to invade the residence of a private citizen, and attempted assassination of citizens. It is in proof, that he stated that its loss should cost the city of Jefferson five hundred thousand dollars, meaning thereby, clearly, that he intended to burn the town.

This man was a member of the Texas Convention, now in session, and men there who knew his character, and who believe he deserved his fate, are helping to persecute Jefferson, on account of his death.—Galveston, Texas, News, Jan 28th.

JOHN RANDOLPH.

Randolph thus announced his State Right convictions and his sagacity at the same time in his speech on the Missouri bill. He says: "I saw the old States playing what I thought a most ruinous and pernicious game, and what in the end has proved to be, giving away to the States north of the Ohio immunities and privileges, and making concessions which they must sooner or later rue—which they rue at this time, and I then rued, and shall forever rue, even to the day of judment, where some of us may wish to be, with a stay of execution. I have no design, you may perceive, sir, on the presidency, nor of any other office which is in the presidential gift, or in that of the nation, whose power has increased, is increasing, and never will, I fear, although it ought to be, and I wish it could be diminished. I have persevered in this course, 'Ab ovo usque ad mala,'—from the beginning of the feast; I fear I must say to the beginning of the famine."

That was the key of Mr. Randolph's political system. But the manifest destiny has overthrown him, although it has only established more firmly his theory.

ONE OF ITS BEAUTIES.—The arrests of the police have always been arbitrary, but under the workings of the present system the whole machinery amounts to petty tyranny. A few days since a gentleman was arrested on what proved to be a malicious charge. The policeman could accept no bail from him, but must carry him up to the City Hall. There he found no officer or any one authorized to accept bail. An hour or so was to elapse before the Court met, and this gentleman, who could have given half the property-holders in the city as security for his appearance at Court, was threatened with confinement in the cells, and had to remain in the guard room in custody for some time. Arraigned before the Court, he was presented with no accuser, and there having been no offense committed and the evidence to prove one being flimsy, the charge fell to the ground. He demanded the name of the person who sued out the warrant, but was denied it, his Honor manifesting no disposition to explain or inquire, and thus he is without redress. And here is a false imprisonment committed and no one to hold responsible. Gentlemen perfectly competent are imprisoned without trial and denied the right to give bail. It may be called petty tyranny, but the term is too mild. A man charged with an offense should be presented with his accuser—a citizen falsely imprisoned is denied the right of redress—our persons seized and incarcerated and no opportunity offered to give bail. Who is safe from malicioumess while such a rascally system exists?—Wilmington Journal.

An Ohio editor is getting particular about what he eats. Hear him: "The woman who made the butter which we bought last week is respectfully requested to exercise more judgment in proportioning the ingredients. The last batch had too much hair in it for butter, and not quite enough for a waterfall. There is no sense in making yourself bald headed, if butter is thirty-five cents a pound."

The hog cholera prevails in the vicinity of Gallatin, Tennessee. Many farmers have lost their entire stock.

LIFE INSURANCE.

BROOKLYN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,

ASSETS OVER

CHRISTIAN W. BOUCK.....President.
ABRAM D POLHEMUS.....Vice President.
WILLIAM H. COLE.....Secretary.
D. F. FACKLER.....Observing Actuary
DANIEL AYRES, M. D. LL.D. Med. Examiner.

POLICIES ISSUED AS GOOD AS UNITED STATES BONDS.

POLICIES VALUABLE IN LIFE AS AT DEATH!

The BROOKLYN LIFE is the only Company in the country which guaranties a definite surrender-value to every Policy on which two or more annual premiums have been paid; this amount, in dollars and cents, is endorsed on every Policy issued. Should any Policy-holder become unable to pay his premiums, he can thus know the cash worth of the Policy at any time after two annual premiums have been paid.

This certainly is the greatest inducement and most tangible advantage ever accorded to parties insuring their lives.

Among the advantages offered by the BROOKLYN, which thoroughly evince the determination of the officers to make it the MOST LIBERAL Life Insurance Company in the United States, are:

1st TOTAL REMOVAL OF ALL RESTRICTIONS ON TRAVEL AND RESIDENCE. The Assured may travel or reside anywhere they choose, the world over, without extra premium or special permit.

2d. A Loan of one-third of the Premium to the Policy-Holder Annually.

3d. All Policies are non-forfeitable after two full annual premiums have been paid.

4th. Rates as low as are consistent with financial soundness, and less than those of almost all Companies which accommodate their assured with loans.

5th. Dividends annually (after second year) in cash. Dividends are divided on the CONTRIBUTION PLAN—the only equitable manner of dividing the earnings of a Life Insurance Company. The Contribution Plan was first conceived by Mr. D. F. Fackler, now Actuary of this Company and has been adopted by most of the best managed Life Companies in this country.

The BROOKLYN LIFE has paid and now pays to its Policy-holders LARGER DIVIDENDS than ever before paid by a Life Insurance Company!

6th. Promptitude in paying losses.

7th. No charge for policy or stamp.

The success which the "BROOKLYN" has achieved, fully exemplified in its rapid and healthful growth, is a convincing proof of the confidence reposed by the public in its soundness, integrity and liberality.

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,

T. O. ENDERS, Secretary.
H. W. ST JOHN, Actuary.

SUMMARY OF BUSINESS FOR 1867

Total Assets, over	$10,000,000
Polices Insured in '67,	15,251
Am't Insured, nearly	$45,000,000
Policies Average "	3,000
Receipts for 1867,	5,129,447
Surplus for Dividends,	2,000,000

Dividend Fifty per cent.

Receipts for Interest Nearly Paid Its Losses.

It has $130 Assets for every $100 Liabilities.

Its premium receipts at the present time are nearly HALF A MILLION DOLLARS per month and are rapidly increasing.

The growth of the Ætna has never been equaled by any other Company whatsoever, in Europe or America.

Particular attention is called to the fact that while its business is increasing unprecedentedly, its ratio of expenses is comparatively small.

ECONOMY of management, CARE in the selection of risks, promptness in the payment of death claims, and security in the investment of its immense Trust Funds, are rigidly adhered to, and have ever characterized this Company.

The ÆTNA issued last year more Endowment Insurances than any other Company.

The ÆTNA'S ratio of expenses, or cost of new business is less than any other Company whatsoever, and less than two-thirds of the average.

The ÆTNA is as liberal in permits to travel, in all parts of the world, as a sound discretion will warrant, and is much more liberal than any other prominent Company.

ANNUAL INCOME over $6,000,000.

The only Company that has the Low Participating Non-forfeitable Term Insurance with privilege of renewal. Ex. of rate at age 30 $14 67, which is nearly 40 per cent. lower than any other leading Company. Also Non-forfeiting cash rates with dividends on contribution plan and payable at the end of the first year.

Description of Policies.

First—Whole Life Policies.

Second—Endowment Policies, for terms of ten, fifteen, twenty, twenty-five, thirty, and thirty-five years.

AGES.

Insurance will be granted at all ages from fifteen to sixty years.

PREMIUMS.

Premiums are payable annually during the continuance of the insurance, or annually during a period of five, ten, fifteen, or twenty years within the insurance term, or by single payment.

DIVIDENDS.

All Whole Life and Endowment Policies, issued at the rates published herewith, will participate in the surplus from the date of issue.

The dividends will be declared and paid annually upon the contribution plan, and may be applied as the assured shall elect, either to reduce future premiums, or to increase the Cash Value of the Policy.

If no election be made the dividends will be added to the Cash Values.

When, by adding the dividends to the Cash Value, the accumulations on any Policy shall have become sufficient to keep the same in force for its full amount, without further payments, the assured may, at his option, either continue payment of premiums—and enlarge thereby the annual additions to its Cash Value—or discontinue them; and in either case, when the accumulations shall have become equal to the sum insured, the annual dividends on the Policy will be declared as a per centage of said sum, and paid in cash, and upon surrender of said Policy the sum insured thereby will be paid in full, without regard to the time fixed therein for its payment.

The system of applying the dividends is peculiarly advantageous to the assured, securing, as an increased age, not only relief from further payment of premiums, but, at the same time, an annual income until death, unless he shall have previously received full payment of the Policy.

Dividends on paid-up Policies—that is, Policies which require no further payment of premium to continue them in force for the original amount of insurance—will be paid in cash upon demand.

NON-FORFEITURE RULES.

No whole Life or Endowment Policy, on which two or more annual cash premiums have been paid, shall be forfeited by failure to make further payment as stipulated therein, but will continue in force for the full amount which the Cash Value and dividends, then accumulated, will purchase, taken as a single net premium, upon the "Actuaries" rate of mortality and four per cent. interest; and the amount continued in force will generally exceed the aggregate of the payments actually made, extra charges excepted.

PURELY A SOUTHERN INSTITUTION.

PRINCIPAL OFFICES:
Atlanta, Georgia; Memphis, Tennessee; Louisville, Kentucky.

CAPITAL STOCK, $228,500.

Nett Assets of the Company, July 1st, 1868, $330,942.66.

Insures lives, and promptly adjusts and pays losses. Its principal business is with Southern States, and to them it appeals for patronage. It has ample means to fully protect Policy holders and pay all losses.

The "Southern" combines the advantage of both note and cash system, stock and mutual—such as choose to pay cash may do so and secure a non-forfeitable policy and all the advantages of a Cash Company. The privilege of a permanent loan for one-third is granted to all who desire it.

It makes investments at home in good and reliable securities, thereby tending to make money more plenty in our midst, and to aid in developing the resources of our section, and to stop the annual drain of over Six Million dollars, which are being sent North for Life Insurance.

Its profits are equitably distributed among Policy holders and Stockholders.

In its organization are presented men of experience in Life Insurance and their aim will be to make the "southern Life" the exponent of the business, enterprise and progress of the present day.

NEW METHOD OF WASHING CLOTHES WITHOUT LABOR.

THE AUTOMATIC

CLOTHES WASHER AND BOILER.

THIS BOILER IS MOST EFFECTUAL, reliable and universally recommended. It can be used on any stove or flange, in any boiler, and the LOW PRICE of the article places it within the reach of every family.

This Boiler operates upon purely philosophical principles, is self-acting, and dispenses with labor and the wear of the clothes.

The fluid ends and steam, by the action of heat, are driven up through tubes, poured upon the clothes, and forced through the fabric with astonishing rapidity, cleansing all articles, from the finest laces to the bed-blanket. For Flannels it is invaluable, as it does not full them as in the old process of rubbing and pressing.

The time required for cleansing a boiler full of clothes is twenty to thirty minutes, and nearly three hundred gallons of boiling ends are forced through the fabric thoroughly loosening and eradicating the dirt WITHOUT LABOR or friction.—A thorough rinsing finishes the process.

Washing day will no longer be a terror and dread to housewives. The cost of the Boiler will soon be returned in the SAVING OF TIME AND LABOR, and the great saving in the wear of clothes.

The great value of this invention appears so clear, and appeals so directly to common sense, that we have deemed it unnecessary to accompany its introduction with numerous letters of approval, &c.

No invention has met with such ready sale and given such satisfaction. Call at LOUGEE & BROTHER'S, and see its wonderful operations.—We have the exclusive right to sell and manufacture in the state.

PEOPLE OF CHATHAM REVOLTING.

The proceedings of the Chatham meeting were mislaid, which accounts for the delay in their publication. We have omitted to name the crimes charged upon certain officials, because of there enormity.

If the people elsewhere, will awake from their lethergy and indifference, they may yet save themselves from the ruin, bankruptcy, and disgrace, which Holden and his administration has in store for them.

In England, birth and rank are falsely considered just claims to pre-eminence and honor. With Radicals, crime only seems to give claim to pre eminence and honor. With the new Constitution, which they hurried through upon the people, before they had read it, they elected men of the most abandoned character to hold office under it.—Professing to hate secession, they elected four signers of the ordinance of secession, to wit: a Governor and three Judges. Professing to hate murder, they elected three murderers, one of them a convicted murderer.

The names of more than one of the Judges elect, could be found as defendants on the criminal docket; one was even presented for perjury. With a few exceptions, the high officials were noted only for their stupidity or their crimes. "Our beloved Governor," as Littlefield's paper still calls Holden, had the distinction in crime of being the first to advocate in 1861, arming "who would plot for the head of Abe Lincoln." Our Legislature is well known to contain such guilty villainy. Yes, convicted and unconvicted criminals. No wonder a grog shop with free whisky, lemons and ice, can be opened in the Capitol by the Editor of the Standard. No wonder a Committee of seven, including the Superintendent of Public Works, can be found to purchase 8,000 acres of land for a Penitentiary. If they had paid only 65 cents an acre for it, they stand convicted of fraud. The purchase of that amount of land itself, for such a purpose, is fraud. No wonder the Treasurer, with the approval of the Governor, sells 8 per cent. railroad bonds at 65 cents in the dollar, which sold last June at par. No wonder the January interest was not paid. A convincing and convicting circumstance has lately come to our knowledge. The October interest was paid by the Treasurer's borrowing money at six per cent. from the State National Bank of this city.

In January last, he did not try to borrow the money of this bank, which had so kindly aid at such small interest, saved the credit of the State in October.

The "beloved Governor" tells the Legislature, he has confidence in the Treasurer, after all this. We say the failure to pay the interest, the sale of the railroad bonds at 65, and the Penitentiary purchase, the two last acts being with the approval of the Governor, is enough to destroy the confidence of honest men, in either of these high officials.

At a meeting held in the town of Pittsboro', on Tuesday the 11th day of Nov., the following proceedings were had. Wm P. Taylor was called to the chair, and J. B Burns to the desk as Secretary. The following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, The Constitution of the United States, as if anticipating rebellion, insurrection and civil war, provides that armed force may be used to suppress the same, and whereas, there is no warrant in the Constitution for the interference of Congress or other States with the police or internal affairs of North Carolina, or any other State; and whereas, since the cessation of hostilities, Congress and other States, and the citizens of other States, by the aid of the sword and the votes of seventy thousand ignorant blacks, have forced upon the people a Constitution, that not one man in a hundred had read, and a set of officials, that were of doubtful and bad character, therefore

Resolved, That the world, outside of North Carolina, should not regard this new Constitution, or its functionaries, as the choice and work of the virtuous people of the State.

Resolved, That the new Constitution is defective in its protection of labour and property; and while it may suit the State of New York, a wealthy and populous State, it is ill-suited to the wants of the people of North Carolina—and so we may say of the Code of Civil Procedure, it may suit New York, but not North Carolina.

Resolved, That the Solicitor Bully, who came and has received fees of ten dollars, for conviction in cases of assault and battery in other counties, shall receive no such fees in the county of Chatham, for we regard such fees as unlawful, and it law ful, unjust and oppressive. And such shall not be collected in the county of Chatham.

Resolved, That we regard the Executive, Legislative and Judicial departments of the Government of North Carolina, as in bad hands and under evil influence; many of the highest officials being weak, wicked, dissolute and corrupt. To name a few, there is Judge Jones, arrested as a nuisance in the City of Raleigh, as a nuisance for public drunkenness, besides being indicted in his own county for offences against the criminal law.

There's Judge Sterbuck, presented by the Grand Jury of the Federal Court for perjury.

There's Judge Tourgee, holding our Courts to-day, convening here on Thursday, when he should have come, on Monday, thereby causing many people to lose three days work looking for the Judge. This Judge, a citizen of Ohio, is a Commissioner to revise the laws, with a salary of 3,400 dollars. He is Judge, with a salary of $2,500, and yet, he has been disgracing the bench, as he rode the circuit, by canvassing and electioneering himself a candidate for Congress. His discussions with his competitor, Wm. F. Henderson, are said to have been of a most disgraceful character,—the Judge charging Henderson with larceny, and Henderson charging that the Judge was a jail bird, from the Penitentiary of Ohio, and had been sued by a negro for a small debt, and forfeited his bail instead of making his appearance at Court. He is said, too, to have been guilty of fighting with his competitor, Henderson, in the public cars, in the presence of ladies. No man is fit for a Judge who so conducts himself, riding his circuit, and no people can long maintain a free, pure government, who tolerate it. The election of Judge Dick and Judge Settle, in putting Judge Tourgee forward as a candidate for Congress, is anything but creditable to the bench of the Supreme Court.

There's Attorney General Coleman, often drunk in public, presented by the Grand Jury of his county for a crime we will not name. There's the Treasurer, who hung an old negro woman until she was dead, without Judge or Jury. There's John V. Sheppard, Solicitor for the 4th Judicial District, who whipped a poor negro to death, in 1862, for stealing a chicken.

Resolved, That the General Assembly be, and they are hereby requested, to remove these unworthy and worthless officials from the places which they disgrace.

Resolved, That no government can be well administered with such officials.

Resolved, That these Resolutions and proceedings be published in the Raleigh Sentinel and all papers of the State be requested to copy.

WM. P. TAYLOR, Chm'n.
J. B. BURNS, Sec'y.

PROSPERITY OF THE SOUTH.

It is really disgusting to read in the Northern papers the numberless leaders setting forth that the South is in a more prosperous condition at present, than at any former period, when, the reverse of this is the true condition of our people. It is impossible for any people to become prosperous under a badly managed government; and who will say that the national affairs are not in a most wretched condition!—that the governments of the Southern States have been administered on a fair and economical plan? We speak now, especially of North Carolina and would call attention to the administration of our own affairs.—We are saddled with an enormous debt—nearly fifty millions of dollars—we are yoked with an oppressive tax, and cursed with an influx of carpet-baggers, all of whom are, more or less, standing with their fingers in the public purse. The people, the honest hard working few, have the brunt of their extravagance to bear; and yet, in our dying struggle, we are told by these Northern papers, that we are in the enjoyment of fine health, and prospering! Such impudence is insulting to our better judgment. With our Treasury depleted, —old debts hanging over us—corruption and fraud in high places—we would ask, is this as evidence of prosperity.

MORE RADICAL ABUSE OF OUR LADIES.—The State Journal, a Radical paper published in Richmond, Va., thus coarsely alludes to the ladies of that City:

"We rarely meet a lady on the street who does not carry bread and meat enough on her back, in the shape of expensive fashionable finery to feed half a dozen families for a month.

When will these insults cease, and what is to be the final end of them. It seems to be a studied subject with these Radical newspapers to heap insult upon our people, not even excepting the females. The article, which appeared in the Standard, headed "Work," in September last, reached the climax of meanness, and the reputed author, to avoid the consequences, betook himself to his native clime. The above, from the State Journal, is coarse and vulgar, but is characteristic of certain inquisitive, busybodies, who are never so well employed, as when they are casting slurs upon their betters.

OFFICIAL CORRUPTION INVESTIGATED IN TENNESSEE.

NASHVILLE, Feb. 3.—The report of the committee of investigation on the missing school fund continues to excite deep interest.

In the House of Representatives to-day a resolution was adopted providing for the prosecution of the parties implicated.—Speaker Richards made a speech defending himself from the committee's charges.

Subsequently a resolution was offered to expel him for receiving bribes. He declared he could not retain the position of Speaker while it was pending. Colonel Prosser was thereupon chosen Speaker pro tem.

A committee of investigation was appointed, and the resolution to expel the Speaker referred to it. The committee will also investigate the charges against other members implicated.

HOW THE LAND GOES.—The Secretary of the Interior informs the Senate that up to the 30th of January, 1867, Congress had given away—mainly to railroads—twenty-one and a half million acres of land, and that since that time five and a half millions more have been added to the list. And yet the New York Tribune thinks that this is not a complete account. It asks: "Will not Congress call for a more particular statement, showing, first, how much land has been given away up to this time; second, how much more is involved in the bills now pending; and, third, how much good land we have left?" We would like to add to this the further inquiry, "How much of all the land donated to these objects has been given to the South?"—This would be a fair and proper, not merely for the gratification of any sectional feeling, but to place before Congress a basis for future action should that body be disposed to make some amends for the glaring partiality which inflamed the discontent of the South, and helped on secession.

ABSOLUTE EQUALITY OF ALL MEN.—Some of our radical contemporaries are extravagant in their praises of the speech of Mr. Carpenter, Senator elect from Wisconsin, in which he uses the expression "We are now at liberty to return to the first principles upon which the Government was founded, and secure for all time the absolute equality of all men."

This would be an "admirable sentiment" if it were only true, but so long as the disabilities imposed upon intelligent white men at the South are permitted to exist, forbidding to them the right to vote or to hold office, or any other right freely accorded to the lately emancipated plantation negroes, it is absurd to talk about "the absolute equality of all men."—Nat. Intelligencer.

England has now an army of one hundred and seventy-seven thousand men, of which seventy thousand two hundred and ninety-two are garrisoned in the British isles, fifty thousand in India, and the remainder in her other dependences.

Messrs. Estes and Pou advocated the passage of the resolution.

Mr. Hodnett, opposed the measure. He would warn gentlemen that was the beginning of the system to sacrifice the public works, of the State to Northern capitalist. This was the entering wedge of the scheme, and he wished to call the attention of the people of the State to the matter. If our public works are so very unprofitable as that, we should jump at every bid to buy, no matter at what sacrifice, why then pile appropriations upon appropriations to inaugurate new works, &c.

Mr. Seymour moved to amend, so that the stock in the Wilmington and Weldon R. R., shall not be sold for less than $35 in cash.

Mr. Ingram favored the resolution.

Mr. High offered the following amendment: Provided, That the interest owned by the State in the Wilmington & Weldon R. R. for a less sum than two hundred thousand dollars of the bonds of the State at par.

Mr. Mendenhall spoke for some time in support of the measure.

J. H. Harris, of Wake, colored, occupied the floor for some time in favor of the proposition.

Mr. Welch opposed the passage of the measure in remarks of some length.

After considerable debate, the question recurring upon Mr. High's amendment, it was put to a vote and lost.

Mr. Seymour's amendment was, by consent, accepted by the friends of the measure.

On the adoption of the resolution, as amended, the yeas and nays being called, resulted in the following ballot:

ARKANSAS DEVILTRY.

LITTLE ROCK, January 27.—Intelligence of a frightful outrage, perpetrated near Pine Knob, in Johnson county, has just reached this city.

Invitations have been out for several days to a wedding which was to take place on Friday night last. The parties were highly respectable, the bride being a young and beautiful girl, niece of one of the former Judges of the Supreme Court of Arkansas. Just after the company had assembled, and before the marriage ceremony was performed a company of negro militia, commanded by a white man, surrounded the place, and, putting out the lights, laid violent hands on the ladies. The gentlemen present were fortunately not without arms, and, after a sharp fight, they drove the marauders off. A sister of the bride was severely and perhaps mortally wounded. Four of the militia were shot in the melee. The affair created great excitement, and the people turned out in pursuit. The Radicals say the object of the negroes was not rapine, but that they went to arrest a man.

Governor Clayton continues to declare that he will do nothing, saying that the negroes may do as they please. His object seems to be to provoke disturbance as an excuse for his acts of executive violence.

Those papers which have been making themselves ridiculous by their silly opposition to the efforts to secure the removal of disabilities from the white men of Virginia, are now making themselves just as ridiculous by their exultation over what they fancy to be the failure of that attempt. Their joy at the prospect of getting the pure and simple and sweet Underwood Constitution, whose embrace they have been so persistently courting, is excessive, but premature. The "new movement" is tenacious of life.

They took a plough and ploughed him down,
Put clods upon his head,
And then they swore a solemn oath
John Barleycorn was dead.

But when the spring came gently on
And showers began to fall,
John Barleycorn got up again
And sore surprised them all.

According to a writer in Figaro, the famous prayer in Rossini's "Moses in Egypt" is nothing more than an air well known in the departments along the Pyrenees. "Our forefathers," he says, "made the mountains resound with the echoes of that melody; we sang it from infancy; and the old ploughman has never guided the slow steps of his cattle otherwise than with that national song.

May your pies all be made at home and not in the press room, and you catch salmon in the press-room and not at home; and, finally, may the Lord help you for we can't.—Camden, (Ark.) Bulletin.

An irascible old gentleman was taken with sneezing in the cars lately. After sneezing in the most spasmodic manner eight times, he arrested the paroxysm for a moment and extricating his handkerchief, he thus addressed his usual organ, indignantly saying, "Oh, go on—go on—you'll blow your brains out presently!"

The London Lancet gives the following as a certain cure for the toothache: Add one drachm of collodion to two drachms of carbolic acid, and a gluetinous mass is precipitated, a small portion of which, inserted in the cavity of an aching tooth, will give immediate relief.

Rothschild, who knew his death would cause a great fall in the shares of the Lombard Company, of which he was the President and chief support, speculated largely for the fall just before he died. The profit, of course, goes to his heirs.

Importance of Life Insurances.

Read another forcible illustration of how the CONNECTICUT MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY pays its losses:—

"Received, at Raleigh, N. C., Jan 28th, 1869 of S. D. Wait, General Agent of the Conn Mutual Life Ins Co., two thousand five hundred and forty five dollars, in full payment of Policy No. 84,031 and dividend on the life of my late husband, ——, and I hereby surrender all my right, title and interest in the same to said Company.

(Signed) ——— ———, of Newbern, N C"

We refrain from publishing the name of the parties, because we do not think it advisable to publish one's private business, but will state although the party had not been insured quite five months, yet received a 50 per cent. dividend on $45 on the premium paid. The dividends of this Company have been larger than those of any other, averaging over 50 per cent. annually, from the beginning and the present dividend (Feb 1st, 1869,) exceeds the average. On this forthcoming annual dividend the Directors have, besides declaring a 45 per cent. dividend upon the premium paid, declared a per centage dividend on the surplus reserve arising from interest, which increases the policy holder's dividend annually, and on some policies pays over 70 per cent. this year. They have also adopted a reduced all-cash premium table with immediate annual dividends.

This company is purely mutual; there are no Stockholders to absorb its earnings. It offers abundant security in a large accumulated fund of over TWENTY-THREE MILLIONS DOLLARS, derived alone from its business, and has $154 assets, securely invested for every $100 of its liabilities.—Its plans of business comprise all the desirable forms of insurance. To the People of the Southern States.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3, 1868.

When the pure medicinal restorative, now so widely known as Wolfe's Schiedam Schnapps, was introduced into the world under the endorsement of four thousand leading members of the medical profession some 20 years ago, its proprietor was well aware that it could not wholly escape the pens by attached to all new and useful preparations. He, therefore, endeavored to invest it with strongest possible safeguard against counterfeiters, and to render all attempts to imitate it difficult and dangerous. It was submitted to distinguished chemists for analysis, and pronounced by them the purest spirit ever manufactured. Its purity and properties having been thus ascertained, samples of the article were forwarded to ten thousand physicians, including all the leading practitioners in the United States, for purposes of experiment. A circular, requesting a trial of the preparation and a report of the result, accompanied each specimen. Four thousand of the most eminent medical men in the Union promptly responded. Their opinions of the article were unanimously favorable. Such a preparation, they said, had long been wanted by the profession, as no reliance could be placed on the ordinary liquors of commerce, all of which were more or less adulterated, and therefore unfit for medical purposes. The peculiar excellence and strength of the oil of juniper, which formed one of the principal ingredients of the schnapps, together with an unadhered character of the alcoholic element, gave it, in the estimation of the faculty, a marked superiority over every other diffusive stimulant as a diuretic, tonic and restorative.

These satisfactory credentials from professional men of the highest rank were published in a condensed form, and enclosed with each bottle of the Schnapps, as one of the guarantees of its genuineness. Other precautions against fraud were also adopted; a patent was obtained for the article, the label was copyrighted, a fac simile of the proprietor's autograph signature was attached to each label and cork over, the name and that of the preparation were embossed on the bottles, and the corks were prepared with a private mark. No article had ever been sent to this country under the name of schnapps prior to the introduction of Wolfe's Schiedam schnapps, in 1851; and the label was deposited, as its trade mark, in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York during that year.

As might be supposed, by persons unacquainted with the daring character of the parties who prey upon the reputation of honorable mercantile pursuits, every effort was made by them to counterfeit the article, so that the protection carefully thrown around these schnapps would have prevented the introduction and sale of counterfeits. They seem, however, only to have stimulated the capacity of imposture. The trade mark of the proprietor has been stolen; the inducement which his Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps have received from the medical profession has led to the closest imitation in bottles, corks and labels; his labels and bottles have been counterfeited, even to the peculiarities of paper, and the circulars copied, and worse than all, diabolically evidence, after dispersing of the genuine contents of the bottle, have filled them up with common gin, for in all deductions of all liquors, and thus under his name and brand a cover for poison.

Let the medical profession and the sick for whom the Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps is prescribed as a remedy, be equally interested with the proprietor in the detection and suppression of these infamous practices. The genuine article, manufactured at the establishment of he undersigned in Schiedam, Holland, is distilled from a barley of the finest quality, and flavored with an essential extract of the berry of the Italian juniper, of unequaled purity. By a process known to in the preparation of any other liquor, it is freed from every acrimonious and corrosive element.

Complaints have been received from the leading physicians and families in the Southern States of the sale of cheap imitations of the Schiedam Aromatic schnapps in those markets; and travellers, who are in the habit of using it as an antidote to the baneful influence of unwholesome river water, testify that cheap gin, put up in schiedam bottles, is frequently palmed off upon the unwary. The agents of the undersigned have been requested to institute inquiries on the subject, and to forward to him the names of such parties as they may ascertain to be engaged in the atrocious system of deception. In connexion, the undersigned would say that he has produced, from under the hands of the most distinguished men of science in America, proofs unanswerable of the purity and medicinal excellence of the Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps; that he has expended many thousand dollars in surrounding it with guarantees and safeguards, which he determined should protect the public and himself against fraudulent imitations; that he has shown it to be the only liquor in the world that can be uniformly depended upon as unadulterated; that he has challenged investigation, analysis, comparison, and experiment in all its forms; and from every ordeal the preparation which bears his name, seal and trademark, has come off triumphant. He therefore feels it a duty he owes to his fellow-citizens generally, to the medical profession and the sick, to denounce and to expose the charlatans who counterfeit these evidences of identity and he calls upon the press and the public to aid him in his efforts to remedy so great an evil.

The following letters and certificates from the leading physicians and chemists of this city will prove to the reader that all goods sold by the undersigned are all they are represented to be.

DON'T FORGET THE TABLEAUX, at Tucker Hall, to-morrow night.

THE benevolent people in Petersburg under the name of "The Impartial Relief Association," have commenced the issue of soup to the colored poor of that city, three days in the week, and three days to the indigent whites. The arrangement is a good one, and is to be kept up until the opening of Spring. We would suggest that our Young Men's Christian Association adopt this plan of contributing to the necessities of our poor, regardless of color—the cost cannot be very great, while the benefits resulting therefrom would be incalculable. We are now passing through the rigors of winter—cold, wet and windy; and the suffering in our midst, no man can imagine, unless he takes the trouble to visit the many cheerless huts and kitchens within the corporation. Let us not forget these poor creatures, while we are enjoying warm houses, and a plentiful table; and let all, who are thus blessed, contribute to this charity fund, by attending the Tableaux next Tuesday evening.

THERE are one or two organizations, or councils, as they are called, in our City, known as the Friends of Temperance. Their object, we presume, is for good, and not evil, by reforming the drunkard, and "lifting up" from the mire," the inebriate. The work, is doubtless a good one, and in some cases, the material upon which they are called upon to operate, are hard cases. Nevertheless, we are told, "in union there is strength," and we sincerely wish them a God speed, in attaining that power which will enable them to close up all drinking houses, established to corrupt the people's representatives.

IMPORTANT TO FARMERS.—The February number of the Carolina Farmer is the best yet issued. This is an enterprise that should be generously sustained by the farmers and planters of the South. Though now in its fourth issue, the Farmer has already taken a high stand in the agricultural literature of the day, and bids fair to reach the highest standard of excellence. Send two dollars, for a year's subscription, to Wm. H. Bernard, Wilmington, N. C. And, if possible, secure the back numbers.

THE HENDERSON Index has entered on its fourth year. The Index is a live paper, conducted with ability.

THE Christian Sun, Suffolk, Va., has just entered upon its 21st volume. The Sun, is and always has been, under the management of the Rev. W. B. Wellons, its present editor, a consistent exponent of the principles of Christianity, and is, we doubt not, exerting a good influence. We wish our Reverend friend a smooth voyage through the veiled future.

DURING the month of January, there were only ten deaths in the city of Wilmington.

THE young men, of Wilmington, propose to raise, by subscription, a sufficient amount with which to purchase a good steam fire engine. This is a commendable move on the part of the young men, and only proves what we have long known, that in energy and go-ahead-itiveness, the City of Wilmington is second to no place in our State.

THOMAS FELT, a boy of eleven summers, lost his life at Wilmington, by attempting to jump from the cow catcher of an engine, on which he was riding. He fell, and the wheels of the engine crushed his skull.

THE REIGN OF TYRANNY.—Our cotemporaries of the Wilmington press, as well as of the Danville, Virginia Times, complain of the tyrannical administration of their municipal officials. There seems to be an impression with the dominant party, that the government is their government, exclusively, and that all who oppose the present regime, are not entitled to "equality before the law"—that by the government, and from its patronage, they are to live and have their being—that oppression is the same prepared for all Conservatives who chance to fall within there grasp.

LOST HIS RELIGION.—President Smith, of the North Carolina Railroad, suspended all work on his road, on the Sabbath, a few weeks since. We learn, however, that he has re-established Sunday trains. He's hopelessly gone.

WE HAVE received a pamphlet copy of the proceedings of a Convention of the Presidents, Superintendents and officials of Southern Railways, for the promotion of Immigration to the South, held in the City of Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 4 1869, and shall take occasion, hereafter, to refer to their objects, and the result of their deliberations.

THE PRICE OF SHAD.—We stated, in our Saturday's issue, that shad was selling for 65 cents per pair in Newbern, while in Raleigh our dealers asked $1.50. We got our Newbern information from the Journal of Commerce. The only man who deals in shad in our market, showed us his bill, which proved that he paid 90 cents in Newbern,—and, of course, $1 50 is as cheap as he can afford to sell for. Will our Newbern cotemporary explain this great difference in price?

We learn that the purchasers of the Magnetic Iron Company have arrived, and are ready to go work. We welcome these gentlemen to our county.

WE ARE GLAD to learn that improvements, on a large scale, are going forward in the City of Newbern. It is a sign of prosperity, and the return of better times.

The following letter from a distinguished citizen of Raleigh, will be read with interest. We insert it to the exclusion of other matter of far less interest:

ROME, D c. 26, 1868.

I wish to describe, to you, the ceremonies in Rome, of the Roman Church, on Christmas eve and Christmas day, as they appeared to me. I wish to expressly disclaim any intention, in any way, to ridicule the ceremonies of the highest representatives of a large body of Christians, and I wish to describe it to you as I saw it, no more nor no less. There are upwards of a hundred Churches and Cathedrals in Rome; we therefore had to select from the ceremonies on this occasion, the most interesting. On the morning of the 24th, we passed two or three hours at the Palace of the Cæsars, which is being excavated by Napoleon III, he having purchased it from the late King of Naples. Then to Capital Hill and visited the picture galleries and statuary in the buildings built by Michael Angelo. Here we saw the most perfect specimen of the Greek's idea of beauty in a Venus seven feet high; the dying Gladiator which Byron so beautifully describes, and the only full length statue of Julius Cæsar, whom Shakespeare says "is the greatest man in the tide of time." We descend into a prison hewn in the rock, on the North side of the Capital, the prison of St. Paul, the face is the Tarpeian rock. We then went to see the statue of Pompey, at the foot of which Julius Cæsar fell. This brings us to 3, P. M., and it is time for the ceremonies to commence.

Our carriage stops at a house just South of the portico of St. Peters, a chapel of the American Church. The room is small; fortunately, for us, we are early, and but few tourists were able to find this place, though many sought it. The Chapel is about 20 feet wide and divided half way, towards the altars, by a wooden railing. Near this we get a seat upon a wooden bench, and this place is soon densely packed with spectators, few among them whorshippers.—Within the railing are nineteen priest dressed in black skull caps and long cloaks; one of them dressed in a rich robe is standing at a desk in front of a red silk curtain intoning a few sentences. Soon three others approach him and he is relieved of his cloak, which is put upon the shoulders of one of the three, and he begins to intone. At the end of this time a neatly dressed Priest comes from behind the curtain, the desk is set to one side, and he goes to intoning as if to consume time, the rest of them disappear behind the red curtain. Now, a great many lights are lit within the curtain, which is now drawn, and twenty-one Priests appear, the chief Priest in white with a mitre; two in blue and gold, and bearing censers; two in crimson and gold, bearing staffs with large guilt discs on top, the discs loaded with small bells; four in purple and gold; three in green drab and gold, and seven more equally as richly dressed.—They form into circles and commence to intone in an extreme nasal twang that reminded like "the Old Ship of Zion," in the American tongue. They march and counter march, incessantly jingle the bells, swing the censers and sing louder and louder.—One of the Priests, who remained in black, came down in the audience and distributed the libettos, the translation of which was in Latin. During the ceremony, they would sometimes commence to kiss by the two centre ones, each turn and kiss his neighbor, and thus pass it down the line.—In the midst of the ceremony the sacrament was administered to five, one representing each color. The whole ceremony was about as intelligent to us unlearned, as an Indian war dance and locked dignity and solemnity. But there were two things absent from this service, which is usual: there was not a master of ceremonies, and there was no dressing and undressing in the presence of the audience. At the end of an hour it was closed, and we were glad to get in the open air, free from the smell of tallow and incense.

As we crossed the Tiber, the guns of Angelo announced the nativity, and we meet a procession of masked devotees who are bearing a dead body. These societies are composed of all classes, and at this season one of their offices is to demand alms from house to house, and all are forced to give, under the fear that the beggar may be a man of power and influence. Most tourists this evening go to musical soirees at the various bankers, but at 7 P. M., we present ourselves at the door of the Sixtine Chapel, dressed according to requirement, necessary to go into the presence of the Pope. Soon we hear the rattle of the drum and the tramp of soldiers, and the crowd gives way for a file of the Swiss Guard to enter the Church before them. These Quentin Durward looking fellows are, nominally, to keep order with their long pikes, but in reality to add to the pageant. It took the genius of Michael Angelo to get up their dress, which is a Joseph's coat of many colors.—From time to time the Cardinals would arrive, and they would come in two and two and kneel at an altar, and, after prayers their attendants, who were dressed like Bishops, would arrange their dresses. When they knelt down they were in white, when they rose they were in crimson. Seven hundred candles in this Chapel only made darkness visible, the frescoing being very dark. The service was all chanted, most of it by the Pope's choir, and, therefore, it is needless to say, that the music was very fine. Individuals of this choir have reputations in Rome like star singers in other cities. The Pope did not officiate, and at 10½ o'clock we left for the French Church, to hear midnight military Mass. Here the highways and byways were collected, as it was open to all, soldiers resplendently dressed ladies, beggars, and friars, kneeling, sitting and standing, filled up the whole body of the Church. The Church was brilliantly illuminated, the music very fine, but we did not remain to the end, as many of the audience scratched vigorously, showing an oversupply of an Italian insect. We came home to get a cup of coffee, and at 8 A. M., were making our way into one of the side chapels of St. Peter's, to listen to the "Pastorale," or shepherd's song. At this ceremony a Cardinal presided, very richly attired, but would, from time to time, take snuff, and many of the Priests in the aisle would yawn as if they wished it was over. The music was of the best, and as the audience were all standing, and you could move from place to place as you pleased, we would sometimes take our position just in front of the singers, and again retire to a distant part of the Church. Now we hear a splendid solo as soft as the sounds of the lute, and now a grand chorus will echo along the domed ceiling of St. Peter's. But there was nothing in the service that portrayed the event they intended to commemorate—I suppose the audience numbered perhaps three thousand people.

After breakfast, at 7½ o'clock, we returned to St. Peter's, again to take our position, five hundred feet from the door. Just abreast of the high altar, near where the Pope is to pass. We are just in time to get a good place, among those properly dressed, for the crowd is fast assembling and continues to increase for an hour and a half. At the end of this time a large body of troops march up the pave, the line reaching the whole length of the pave.—The column divides in the centre and force back the crowd so as to leave an open space between the door and the high altar. On either side of the high altar are boxes, each containing five hundred ladies. Above us, towards St. Peter's chair, in the choir, is the diplomatic box; opposite them is the Royal box. In front of the latter box are chairs for the Cardinals, and at the end next to the high altar, is the choir for the Pope, on a raised platform, covered with red cloth. In front of St. Peter's chair is a maroon velvet screen, with gilded devices, in front of which is the Pope's canopied throne.—At half-past nine we hear the silver trumpets, announcing the coming of the procession, and every opera-glass is directed towards the door. Priests, as well as tourists, using them. But nothing is to be seen but vast numbers of mitred heads and a canopy under which men seem to be carrying their idol, as the figure rocks from side to side. They stopped for a while at one of the side chapels, for service. Now the column moves again; first a body of men, dressed in red robes, white fur caps, bearing crowns and gilded mitres, then a body of Bishops, wearing plain silvered mitres, followed by the Cardinals, dressed in white and figured white mitres, then the peacock screens and canopy. The Pope is seated in his golden chair, borne on the shoulders of six of his garde nobili, and the people bow and kneel as he passes, and he, from time to time, gives a signal of blessing with his right hand which motion looks as if he was flirting water from the ends of (his) well-ed fingers. Descending from his golden chair, he takes his seat in the chair on the right hand side of the choir. In the meantime the choir is chanting. Now the highest in rank of the priesthood advance and, one by one, kiss first the right and then the left hand of the Pope, bow and go to their places. The next in rank kiss the right hand and make a deep reverence. The third, kiss one hand and the foot, and finally a body of men who kiss merely the foot. I forgot to mention that they took from the Pope, when he first arrived at his seat, his triple crown and deposited it on the high altar where there were already three triple crowns and four gold mitres. The jewels in these crowns are of immense value, the most valuable one being an emerald, a present from the Queen of Spain. It is evident that not all in view in there are two masters of ceremony; one is a Cardinal, who attends to the Pope's person and one a Cardinal who presides at the high altar; and there are a number of attendants who act as call boys. But these call boys do not merely announce to the officiating Priest that he is wanted, but they go with him and point out his duties and, from time to time, ring the little bell to notify the choir to begin, or to change the scene. It is evident that the Cardinal at the high altar is getting out and arranging some very handsome robe, golden cords, tassels, collars, &c. The services proceed, and a body of men come up to the high altar, each reverently kneel, receive a piece of this clothing as he receives it, kisses it. It is all white, embroidered with gold. And, now, all ceremony stops and all music, and they prepare to dress the Pope. They take off some of his clothing, but he must have retained a great deal or he is a very flashy man.—From time to time he stands up to have a portion of his clothes adjusted and he seems to get a little impatient and will assist.—They seem to have put on one collar too soon, so that each time they have to pull it up over his head like a cowl, then they push it back and adjust it to see how it looks. But with the next garment, up it has to come again. But at the end of fifteen minutes he seems to be robed to their satisfaction. The old Pope seems to be a little tired and runs his hand under his garments into some pocket and hawks and spits in it, pulls out a large common looking blue pocket handkerchief, and now the service commences again, and a procession bearing lighted candles, silver maces and a cross, proceed from the high altar up to the Pope's chair, and the Pope accompanies them with a number of Cardinals back to the high altar. He mounts the platform and is furnished with a golden censer which he waves all in front of the high altar, and, particularly, at the crowns and mitres that are resting on the high altar.—He then returns not to the chair that he has left, but to the throne. And for an hour and a half more the service proceeds, but the Pope, from time to time, intones a few sentences in a very strong and clear voice. These sentences are read from envelloumed books, which books are first blessed at the high altar before they are sent up to him and while he is intoning the service, they all held by a Cardinal in front of him.—They look more like pieces of music than books. Now the Pope comes from the throne to the high altar again to elevate the host. As he raises it above his head, all the people kneeling, it receives a grand salutation from the silver trumpets. Now, having been at this business for twenty-two hours (we are tired and make our way out of the crowd. As we pass along the side aisles, we see hundreds of loungers composed of Pope's servants, dressed in maroon cut velvet, Cardinal's footmen in gorgeous livery, Monks in cloaks of every color known to the dyer, gayly dressed peasant, nobly Papal soldier, the shepherd in his skins, the widow in her mourning garb, and last but not the least, numerous the beggars of Rome. We thought to ourselves as we rode home if we had been a Hindoo we never could have divined for what this was meant. It is said that the Pope is usually ill after one of these grand ceremonies.

This is exactly how one of the grand ceremonies appear to the eye. The music is unquestionably the finest in the world, and all of these ceremonies are exactly alike. If you come here you will see no more nor no less. I stood in the midst of a large body of Priests and as far as I can judge from their faces, they seemed to regard it exactly as I did, as a grand pageant.

Our Midnight Dispatches.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6, P. M.

In the District Court Bradley, having formally declined apologizing to Judge Fisher, was again excluded from practice.

The joint resolution, removing officers in Virginia, Mississippi and Texas, is now before the President for approval.

It provides for the removal, after thirty days, from and after its passage, all persons now holding office who cannot take and subscribe to the oath prescribed by the act, entitled an act to prescribe an oath of office and for other purposes approved March 2d, 1867.

The Commander of Districts shall fill the offices so vacated with persons who can take the said oath, provided the provisions of this resolution shall not apply to persons relieved of political disabilities.

Messrs. Brown and Sumrall, who represented the people from Mississippi, are anxious for the adopted modified Constitution, with the privilege of electing officers under it, but if the pending Constitution with the officers claiming under it were forced upon the State, the people would regard the act as an unjust coercion, and would not rest until it was altered.

CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Feb 6 P. M.

HOUSE.—The stationery contracts were further ventilated without action.

More petitions were presented from New York against the secret sales of gold by the government.

A number of private bills passed.

The Committee on Ways and Means reported a bill preventing the further increase of the public debt.

A bill ordering two terms of the Federal Circuit Court in the Eastern District of Arkansas, passed.

The Secretary of the Treasury asked whether all the money from captured and abandoned property had been paid into the Treasury.

The Reconstruction Committee reported a bill removing the disabilities from a large number of persons, which was ordered to be printed.

A bill was reported by the Committee on Banking Currency, requiring National Banks to report to the Comptroller monthly.

Army appropriations was resumed, without action.

The House adjourned.

SENATE.—The tenure of office bill came up which provoked a warm discussion, Morton said that it was wrong, and should never have been passed. No action.

The Constitutional amendment was resumed and a long discussion followed. No action.

Edmunds introduced a concurrent resolution excluding the electoral vote of Georgia from count, because of Georgia's doubtful position in the Union. Several Senators objected. The resolution goes over.

The Committee on the Pacific Railroad introduced a bill to aid the Southern Pacific, the Atlantic and Pacific, the Southern Pacific of California, the Little Rock Arkansas Valley and Fort Smith, the Eastern division of the Union Pacific and Oregon Branch Railroads, guaranteeing the interest on their bonds thirty years at six per cent, at the rate of thirty thousand per mile with subsidies of lands.

The Southern Pacific Road lies between the thirty-fourth and sixth parallel, connecting with the Southern Pacific of California, on the Colorado River. The bill was ordered to be printed. The Senate then adjourned.

NEW GOODS! NEW GOODS!

AT HOME AGAIN!!

WITH A HOUSE RAMMED AND PACKED FULL OF

NEW FALL AND WINTER GOODS,

FOR

A. CREECH'S!

For Ladies' Goods! For Gentlemen's Goods! For Misses' Goods! For Boys' Goods! Ditto for Children!

MY STOCK IS LARGE AND VERY COMplete. Allow me to say that you see some very strange advertisements. Some say they bought goods before the rise—some after the decline—some just in time—some in luck again—some buy goods cheaper than anybody else—some selling goods at unprecedentedly low prices—some controlling the trade &c., &c., and all such stuff. What a lucky set of individuals!

Now just let ME tell you, that there is more humbug than poetry in all this. Don't every man, woman and child know that it is humbug—large enough to be seen even with one eye shut? So let them talk, puff and blow, but stop. LOOK OUT! HANDS OFF! and show your good judgment by to buy your goods. I intend to run through this campaign with my motto, to give each and every individual value received for their support!

A fine opportunity for the ladies to exercise their inalienable rights, as well as the gentlemen. Don't stop until you COME TO CREECH'S. You will find me at R. Smith's corner, attending to my business, always ready to give you the worth of your money.
